Class of 2010 Senior Prank

You may have noticed the front lawn covered in plastic forks on Thursday morning. This was thanks to our senior class. Together they managed to "Fork" the front lawn with 4800 plastic forks. This is a common senior prank by high school seniors all around the country to signify that they are done. It was a harmless prank and we appreciate the students cleaning up the mess. Seniors, VAHS will miss seeing you around campus.
